Farmers and Drovers Bank Donates New Stage to Neosho Riverwalk Amphitheater

Council Grove, KS—The City of Council Grove is proud to announce that Farmers & Drovers Bank has donated a brand-new performance stage to the Neosho Riverwalk Amphitheater, enhancing one of Council Grove’s most scenic and cherished outdoor venues.

The new stage, designed with modern performance standards and community use in mind, will serve as a central feature for concerts, festivals, and civic events throughout the year — including the much-anticipated Washunga Days and other downtown celebrations.

“Our commitment to the community goes beyond banking,” said Julie Hower, President and CEO of Farmers and Drovers Bank. “We believe in investing in the heart of Council Grove, and the Neosho Riverwalk Amphitheater is just that — a place where people gather, celebrate, and connect. We’re thrilled to contribute to its growth with this new stage.”

City officials, local organizations, and event coordinators welcome the upgrade, which will provide expanded functionality, improved acoustics, and a safer, more durable structure for performances.

“We are incredibly grateful to Farmers and Drovers Bank for their generosity and vision,” said Nick Jones, City Administrator of the City of Council Grove. “This new stage will elevate our ability to host high-quality entertainment and bring our community together in meaningful ways.”
